

Finding Enid with LOVE

Discovering Enid Collins through Purse Anthropology

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact:

www.findingenidcollins.com

Finding Enid on the Red Carpet: Photo Booth at the Hill Country Film Festival

May 25, 2022, LONGMONT, COLO.—Calling all “sophistikits” and “glamor pusses”!

Are you attending the June 3 premier screening of the new Mike Maloy documentary, “Finding Enid with Love,” at the Hill Country Film Festival?

Come early and drop by the “Finding Enid on the Red Carpet Photo Booth” to get your photo on the red carpet with a glitzy, ritzy vintage Collins bag.

Pick a purse (or bring your own) from our provided selection, then strike a pose and share your 15 seconds of fame with friends and other Collins fans.

Booth will run from 5:30 to 6:45 p.m. and be located by the event entry at the Admiral Nimitz Gallery, 340 E. Main St., Fredericksburg.

The screening is open to the public and tickets are $10, available at www.hillcountryff.com. There is no charge to visit the booth, but it will be first come, first served.

Hosted by Finding Enid with LOVE, a project with a social purpose to collect, study and illuminate the art of Enid Collins. The film includes the project and borrows its name, but is otherwise not affiliated.

For more about the project, visit www.findingenidcollins.com.

150 characters (183 with spaces):

Calling all “glamor pusses”! Get a pic w/ a glitzy, ritzy Collins handbag at the Finding Enid Red Carpet Photo Booth. Pick a purse, strike a pose & share! 5:30-6:45 pm by event entry.